

“Putt for the Prize” Contest to win $2500

All participants in the Central UCC golf tournament "Putt for the Prize" Contest must be registered for the Central UCC golf tournament prior to the start of the “Putt for the Prize!” Contest, after which the names of all registered golfers will be entered one time into a drawing. The names of four golfers will be drawn to participate in the "Putt for the Prize" Contest. If any of the four do not wish to participate, another name will be drawn so that there are four competitors. Those four golfers are the only people allowed to attempt the putt. No substitution of golfers will be permitted. In the order that their names were drawn, the four contestants will each make one attempt to sink a 50-foot putt for the $2500 prize. In the event that more than one contestant sinks their putt, the $2500 prize will be divided equally among those sinking their putt. The contest will end after all four contestants have made one attempt at the putt.

The Redfield Golf Pro will oversee the event and settle all disputes. The putts will be filmed and the videos submitted to American Family Insurance for verification and payment of the prize for any successful putts.
